Hybrid Floor Maintenance has Arrived

Adairsville, GA – November 1, 2008 – The first of its kind - floor scrubber, burnisher and vacuum recovery unit powered with an EPA and CARB approved engine – is now available in one machine by Eagle Solutions. The EcoScrub-n-Buff will make a great addition to the janitor's arsenal of floor maintenance equipment. It can be used on many floor surfaces including tile, VCT, polished or unpolished concrete, marble and terrazzo.

The "hybrid" EcoScrub-n-Buff utilizes an energy efficient system of low engine RPM's that power a high current DC alternator giving you the muscle to scrub and burnish floors at the same time without waste. The zero turning radius will save you time and effort as the squeegee design extracts the dirt and solution leaving the floor dry. The large tanks make dispersal and pick-up easy and quick. The 27" burnishing pad leaves the floor with a glistening shine.

Along with the engineered hybrid energy system and the benefits of time saving labor, the EcoScrub-n-Buff is designed with the environment in mind. Propane actually lowers CO₂, a major green house gas, by 80% over electric, based on LPGA 2006 Energy Review. And because it is powered by clean burning propane, there are no dangerous electric cords to deal with or battery disposal issues. Eagle Solutions has also added an emissions monitor that will automatically shut the machine down if the engine is not running at optimum.

Machine features include:

- Clean & burnish in the same pass
- Leaves no water on turns
- Steel frame construction
- Twin high flow vacuums
- Zero turning radius
- High capacity tanks
- Non-marking tires
- Handle controller
- Auto breaking
- No hydraulics
- EPA & CARB approved

Eagle Solutions has been a leading manufacturer of propane powered floor maintenance equipment since 1989. They long have had a reputation for well-built industrial equipment and customer loyalty.
